DISEASE SPREADING

FIFTEEN CASES OF HORSE EPIDEMIC AT BURLINGTON JUNCTION

TRY THE KANSAS REMEDY

Suggestions Offered to Prevent Disease as Well as Treatment for Animals Already Infected.

Several new outbreaks of the horse disease were reported today to The Democrat-Forum by our correspondents in the various parts of the county. It is much worse than at first thought, and the disease seems to be spreading over the county.

The farmers over the county are much excited over the epidemic and are taking prompt action in taking their horses off the pasture. The disease in this county is the same as in Kansas, so the veterinaries say.

In Kansas at the present time the horse disease or something similar to it is spreading among the chickens in that state. Thousands of chickens are reported dying. Few mules have contracted the disease, and it also seems to be affecting few cattle in Kansas.

Dr. J. A. Hendricks, a veterinary of Burlington Junction, reported Wednesday fifteen cases of the disease within a radius of six miles from Burlington Junction. He said at that time that about seven horses had died, and that the remainder would die soon. The disease was first noticed at the Junction by Dr. Hendricks on Tuesday, and he has been very busy to do everything he can to prevent it from spreading. The disease is not in one locality, but seems to be all around the Junction.

There was also reported to this paper cases of many horses taking sick within the last day or so, but as yet were still alive.

Dr. G. H. Leach, deputy state vetrinary, reported at noon today that he knew of no new cases of the disease.

Dr. Samuel Morgan of Skidmore reported a case of a horse being sick, but he said he thought it was due to eating rotten corn. He said the horse would die. The horse was the property of Theo. Peters of near Skidmore.

Dr. Morgan also told this paper that he had a horse in the livery stable at Skidmore that had displayed peculiar symptoms, but he was under the impression that it was the disease that is in Kansas. He said he knew of no other cases in the community.

How to Treat the Plague.

The horse plague recommendations of the Kansas veterinarians follow:

That all horses and mules be taken off pasture until freezing weather.

Feed these animals on green corn fodder, cane or kaffir, bran, oil meal, or, in fact any food that has a laxative action. Feed cautiously hay cut from lower or overflowed land, or land receiving drainage from pasture.

See that the horses have a pure, wholesome water supply, free from surface drainage, and that they are excluded from all still, stagnant or surface water.

Empty, clean and thoroughly disinfect all water troughs and tanks by scrubbing out with a solution of four ounces of carbolic acid in a gallon of water once a week.

Give the animal at from twelve to twenty-four hour periods and administer on an empty stomach, one quart of raw linseed oil, to which has been added two ounces of turpentine. Repeat this in twelve to twenty-four hours. Great care should be taken in administering the oil for fear of strangulation. Drench slowly. In case the animal strangles, lower the head. A quart and a half of melted lard may be substituted for the oil. This course of treatment should be repeated in from six to eight days. Never give any drench through the nostrils. Instead of the oil, a capsule composed of aloin, five drams; calomel, one dram; ginger, one dram, and beachwood creosote, twenty drops, may be given and repeated in one week.

Allow the animals free access to the following mixture: Powdered iron sulphate, one pound; powdered copper sulphate, one-half pound; powdered glauber salts, six pounds; common salt, twelve pounds. Mix the ingredients thoroughly.

Some horses will die after being fed on dry feed, but horse owners should not become discouraged, but should continue to keep them off pasture and provide proper feed and water as directed. Veterinarians were agreed that there were no curative measures worth consideration. It had been their experience that most of the infected horses died.

The veterinarians offered the following suggestions as possible helps to infected animals:

Keep the animal in a shady place. Place on top of the head cold packs, either ice or water. Do not drench affected animals, as the throat may be paralyzed and they cannot swallow. Drenching will, therefore, result in lung fever.

NEED DINNER BUCKET BRIGADE.

George B. Irving Says Maryville Can Have 10,000 Population if Citizens Work for It.

The talk made by George B. Irving of Chicago at the Elks' club Tuesday evening to a large crowd of citizens was well received. Mr. Irving's subject was the conservation of community life and he said that what Maryville needed more than anything else was a dinner-pail brigade. He spoke of many things that would help the city, a few being for the Commercial club to have an industrial fund with which to secure factories, to promote the building and construction of good roads, and to have a good social center life.

He told his audience of what other towns were doing and that in all of these places what they had accomplished was through a strong organized commercial club. He said Maryville could be made a town of 10,000 and that all it would take would be work on the part of all of the citizens.

"The commercial club has made many a town and the citizens of Maryville should take part in their club," said the speaker.

Mr. Irving's address was brief and to the point, as the speaker left the city Tuesday evening on the Burlington train.

MRS. W. S. MILES DEAD

HOPKINS WOMAN PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY MORNING.

WAS IN BUSINESS THERE

For Many Years She Struggled to Rear Her Family—Second Husband and Seven Children Survive.

Mrs. W. S. Miles died at her home in Hopkins Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Miles had been a great sufferer for the past year, and her trouble being of a cancerous nature, her death was not unexpected. She had been in the novelty and millinery business in Hopkins for a number of years and only lately gave up the work entirely when she sold her business to Miss Frances Lindsay.

In the death of Mrs. Miles Hopkins loses a woman of business ability, kindliness of heart and Christian character. Left as she was with her family of little ones to provide for, she made a noble fight to rear them as best she could, and only those close to her ever realized the struggle this noble mother made.

She united with the Presbyterian church at the age of 12 years, and continued always in the very darkest days to cling to her faith, especially at the last, to her hope for the future.

The funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church by Rev. A. P. Walton, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Taylor of the M. E. church.

The time for the service cannot be arranged until relatives have been heard from. Burial will take place in Hopkins cemetery.

Mrs. Miles' maiden name was Francelia A. Davis. She was born in Randolph, Wis., and moved while yet a child with her parents to Blue Earth, Minn. Here she grew to womanhood and was married to M. D. Jackson of the same place. In 1885 she came with her husband to Hopkins, which has been her home ever since. Mr. Jackson died in 1891, and in 1895 she was again married to William Miles of Hopkins, who, with a family of grown sons and daughters, mourned the loss of a loving wife and mother.

The children are Ellis, J. A. and Theodore Jackson of Hopkins; Prof. Dee Jackson of Big Heart, Okla.; Glen Jackson of Waterloo, Ia.; Miss Frances Miles, who is teaching with her brother at Big Heart, Okla., and an older daughter, Mrs. Pearl Jackson Cook, who is with her husband in the Philippines, Mr. Cook holding a government position there. Mrs. Miles also left a sister, who lives in Chicago.

The appointment of Mr. Bellows is a good one and no better man could be selected for the place by Governor Hadley.

RUNAWAYS NOT FOUND.

Search for Eloping Couple From Burlington Junction in Des Moines Unavailing.

Miss Nora Harbison, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Harbison of the mineral springs of Burlington Junction, and Herschel Wagner, a son of Wm. Wagner of near that place, eloped about a week ago from the Junction and is said to have gone to Des Moines, Ia., to be married. The following was in the Des Moines Register and Leader of Monday's issue:

Though the police have been searching for a week, and the girl's father has walked up streets day in and day out, no trace of Herschel Wagner, 17 years old, and Nora Harbison, 16 years old, who eloped to Des Moines from Burlington Junction, Mo., has been found.

Under the supervision of J. W. Jenney, chief of police, many of the downtown rooming houses have been searched without success. Several clues of the people have been secured, but all proved false. It is known, however, that they are in the city, and are believed to have been married here.

O. G. Harbison, the father, believes that they came here so that young Wagner could attend school. He does not want to punish the boy so much as he wants to find the girl. "I care nothing for him. I want to find my daughter," he told Chief Jenney. Harbison is determined that his search shall not cease until he has found them, and is said to have made the statement that he will spend $5,000 in his quest if necessary.

PETTY MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

Dry Goods Store Now in the Hands of Fred Kurtz, as Trustee.

An assignment was made a few days ago by F. M. Petty, who is the proprietor of the Petty dry goods store of this city. Fred Kurtz was selected as trustee and will have charge of the store. It will be closed for the next few days and an inventory will be taken of the store. Then it will be disposed of.

F. M. Petty, who is seriously sick at his home in this city, has been unable for the last few months to give as much time to the management of the store as necessary and he took this action himself as he was unable longer to conduct the business.

Mr. Pettty has proven himself an honorable business man in every relation with his fellow business men and it is a matter of deep regret to all who know him that his failing health of the past few years has prevented him meeting and overcoming the reverses that have come upon him. He is a true christian gentleman and it is hoped that he may be able to recover his health, the greatest fortune he could have.

NORMAL OPENING WEDNESDAY.

Indications Point to Large Attendance—Dr. Taylor Returned From State Capital.

Wednesday was the opening day of the fall term of the Normal and a large number registered. Classes will meet on Thursday. The enrollment at press time this afternoon was 123.

Dr. Taylor returned Wednesday morning from Jefferson City where he attended a meeting called by State Superintendent of Schools Evans of the Normal presidents and other school men. The purpose of the meeting was to get the Democratic and Republican party to endorse the mill tax amendment in their platform. Dr. Taylor on Saturday addressed the M. E. Church, South, conference at Shelbina, Mo., on the mill tax amendment and what it meant to this state.

BET ON HORSE RACE

ALBERT S. HANNA VICTIM OF OLD SWINDLING GAME.

LOSS SAID TO BE $7,000

He Won at First and Was Anxious to "Make a Killing"—Small Hopes to Recover Money.

According to dispatches received here today Albert S. Hanna, who lives near Maryville is alleged to have lost $8,000 on a "sure thing" horse race at Omaha. Mr. Hanna gets his mail from the Maryville postoffice on route 3, and is a bachelor about 45 years old. The dispatch from Omaha says:

Albert S. Hanna of Maryville, Mo., a wealthy farmer, today complained to the Omaha police that last week he was defrauded out of $7,000 on a fake pool room deal in a hotel on Capitol avenue, this city. Hanna came to Omaha on business and fell in with a stranger by whom he was let in on a "sure thing" race. The race was supposed to be run in Toronto, and Hanna bet on the telegraphic results. He posted $50 and won. Then he put up $250 and again won.

Intending to make a killing he returned to Maryville, secured $3,500 in cash and a negotiable mortgage for the same sum. He returned to Omaha with this and the grafters, of whom there were four, moved to Excelsior Springs, Mo. Mr. Hanna went with them. All five men then went to Kansas City, and afterward returned to Omaha. At the proper time Hanna put up $7,000 and, according to the telegraph report, his horse failed to win. The confidence men took the cash and mortgage and left the building.

Hanna got to thinking of the matter and appealed to the police. There is small chance of the recovery of Hanna's money.

Captain Maloney of Omaha stated late yesterday that but for a fleeting visit of Hanna to the "rogues' gallery," where he claimed to identify a photograph as that of one of the "mikes," the police department had no official cognizance of the purported swindle. At that time Hanna was in a hurry. He was leaving the city for a day or two. But on his return Maloney will secure complete information upon which to work.

Hanna has filed suit against the alleged "mikers" to recover the amount of Hanna's losses. But so far only $187, on deposit to Lewis' credit in the First National bank, has been discovered. The cash has been attached pending the outcome of the suit. The whereabouts of the other "mikers," Messrs. Casey, Simpson and Gorman are unknown as yet.

The history of the case has developed that Hanna came to Omaha August 28, worth something in excess of $8,000 in cash and property. He was here ten days and when he left possessed less than $800.

Fred Harvey, who is attorney for Mr. Hanna, was not in his office this afternoon, but it is said that the story of the hold-up is true. It is not supposed that Mr. Hanna lost as much as was printed in the dispatches.

TELL OF JOURNEY IN ITALY FROM FLORENCE TO VENICE

The following is a continuation of Miss May Corwin's letter that was published in Tuesday's issue of The Democrat-Forum:

Our journey from Florence to Venice was quite pleasant, as we had a nice new car and such a long one it gave a walk in the side aisle. We spent most of the time shutting the two open windows (in each door on opposite sides) for tunnels, as we passed through more than forty during the first two hours. There was beautiful mountain scenery when we had a chance to see it, and the air outside, when we alighted at stations was great. The last half of the trip was through a very fertile valley. We saw whole herds of the white cattle they use entirely for work here. They even hitch the milk cows to the great carts.

Just outside the railway station we beheld the grand canal of Venice and have not left it for long since. We were put bag and baggage into long black gondolas, with greasy, rather than picturesque, gondoliers, propelling us with his long oar so insecurely fixed in the upright socket. As we entered at 9 o'clock the effect on our imaginations was great, and even now, after four days, the romance of the watery city has worn off in the bright sunlight or these gray rains which have descended during the mornings these last two days, and today's rain promises to hold forth all day long.

We leave Saturday, August 10, for Milan then on to Switzerland. Our party has decided to cut Le Puy, France, and go directly to Paris. Of course, the mountain region may prove so fascinating that all will vote to cut some of Paris and remain.

We went to the beach here on the Isle of Lido. It is one of the finest in Europe and surely peculiar in some ways. The pavilion is very large and extends out over the water. On each side of it are shops of all kinds of pretty things, even music and photos and ostrich plumes and gowns, with lots of lace and jewelry and beautiful glassware. Then a cafe at the end and even roller skating rink.

The beach itself is sandy and the water was warm and lovely out a long distance. I could swim quite a little, I found, so there must be great qualities in the water. The bathing suits are designed like the Spanish, but bright stripes and plaids in pink and red are the popular colors. They add an air of festivity at least. On each side of the beach a row boat containing a couple of dark skinned seamen was anchored and they kept a close eye out for any case of drowning.

We had a nice gondola ride out to another island and saw them make the famous glass of Murano or Venecian ware. The factory is quite small and display room large and very interesting. One family holds the secret of the coloring and do the work. The colors are wonderful. A set of plain glasses have rainbows in them and the odd mosaic vases are dreams.

The glass beads here are wonderful. They are made into purses, bands, belts and strings of all kinds and are all kinds from the smallest to big Indian looking things. Whole shops sell nothing but the bead work, just as others do the laces.

We went to a lace factory where the girls make it on pillows, all by needle and fine thread, even the mesh.

Venice is best at night. There is a fine band concert on St. Mark's square every evening, and out on the grand canal near us here are boats decorated with Jap lanterns, filled with musicians who sing and play (one has a piano and another an organ and the others orchestras) classic and popular songs, and they have good voices. The gondolas are lined up in a bobbing black mass all round [illegible] man with a hat climbs over and collects a penny from each. It is simply great. MAY CORWIN.

The shipment embraced eighty steers, averaging 1,313 pounds, that sold at $9.10, a price that was entirely satisfactory to Mr. Nunnelly. For a good many years Mr. Nunnelly has been one of the leading live stock shippers of Nodaway county and has always been a consistent patron of this market.—St. Joseph Live Stock Journal.

Obituary.

Lydia J. Berier, nee Herbert, who died at her home in Denver, Col., on Thursday, August 29, 1912, was born in September 30, 1844, on a farm near Valparaiso, Ind. When an infant her father died. In 1858 her mother married John M. Churchill. They moved to Oregon, Mo., and in 1868 moved to Whig Valley, near Graham, Mo.

In 1861 the family came to Maryville, where the subject of this sketch remained until seven years ago, when she and her husband, W. W. Herbert, went to Denver, Col., to make their home with their son, William Herbert. Mrs. Herbert was married to her husband in 1870. He conducted a photograph gallery in Maryville for many years. Two sons were born to them, William J. and Edward, the latter dying when 6 weeks old.

Those who are left to mourn her death are her invalid husband, their son, Will J. Herbert, a half-sister, Mrs. Mathias Lahr of Maryville, and two half-brothers, Hiram G. Churchill of Enid, Okla., and John N. Churchill of Sheridan, Wyo.

Mrs. Herbert united with the First M. E. church of Maryville in 1868 and lived true to her profession. The funeral services were held at the home, 2429 Glenarm place, Denver. Miss Clara Sawyer, formerly of St. Joseph, a well known singer in Denver, sang several numbers. Among the beautiful floral offerings was a piece made of china asters that covered the top of the casket, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Whitley, formerly of Nodaway county.

Mrs. Herbert had been in poor health for a long time, and her death was not unexpected.

Mrs. C. N. Stormer of Rushville, Mo., accompanied her sons, C. N., Jr., and Romulus Stormer, to Maryville Tuesday, when they registered as State Normal students, went to Bolckow Wednesday morning to visit Mrs. Emmett Messick before returning home.

A HAPPY, LAUGHING CHILD IN FEW HOURS

If Cross, Irritable, Feverish, Tongue Coated and Sick, Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs."

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish, mother! Examine the tongue; if coated, it means the little one's stomach is disordered, liver inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectually, besides they dearly love its delightful fig taste.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without griping or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Was a Beautiful Garden Party.

If the formal opening of the Twentieth Century club may be taken as a criterion of social events of the club for the coming year, the members and their friends may prepare for social and intellectual feasts. The garden party at "Cherrycroft," the home of Mrs. J. F. Montgomery, on Tuesday afternoon, was one of the nicest social times the club has had, and certainly was beautiful to look upon. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Ruth Montgomery, who will leave in a few days for her second year at Northwestern university. There was a good attendance of the members, and they were received by the officers of the club, Miss Jessie Parcher, Mrs. M. J. Honnold, Mrs. M. G. Tate, Miss Alma Nash, Mrs. S. R. Beech, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode. Lavender punch was served from a table that was beautifully decorated with china asters in the club colors of lavender and white, by Miss Laura Barmann, Miss Esther Shoemaker and Miss Elise Jackson. The club was called to order by the president, Miss Jessie Parcher, and some business matters of last year were closed up. Talks were made by the chairmen of the various departments, Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend for the music department; Mrs. George P. Bellows for the arts and crafts department; Mrs. Anderson Craig for the Shakespearean department, and Mrs. George Colbert for the Tourists. This was followed by the presentation of the year books containing the programs for the coming year's study for all departments. Miss May Orear, Miss Alma Nash and Mrs. D. J. Thomas distributed the books in baskets decorated with lavender and white asters and tulle. A one-course luncheon in the club colors followed and was served from ten small tables. Mrs. Jonn Bellows of Chicago was an out-of-town guest.

PHRASES THAT HAVE LIVED

Foolish Sayings Unaccountably Endowed With a Most Remarkable Vitality.

Or was "Who Kissed Henrietta?" only one of many queer street cries that are spoken and heard for a season? Who first shouted: "Ah there!" expectant of the answer: "Say there!"? In London the foolish cry: "How's your poor feet?" was long in fashion. It was first heard, they say, about 1862. When Henry Irving revived "The Dead Heart," in 1890, some one wrote: "When the play was brought out originally, where one of the characters says: 'My heart is dead, dead, dead!' a voice from the gallery nearly broke up the drama with: 'How are your poor feet?' The phrase lived." Now "The Dead Heart" was first produced at the Adelphi, London, in 1859, so the phrase must have been heard before 1862 if this story be true. Precision in such cases is suspicious. When a man tells you he will repay a light loan next Wednesday in front of the Park Street church at 11:30 a. m.—"I may be a few minutes late"—you know full well that you will see his face no more. Others say: "How's your poor feet?" dates from the exhibition of 1851.

Or take the Parisian cry: "Ohe Lambert! As-tu vu Lambert?" The wise men will tell you that on August 15, 1864, a woman from the country, arriving for the Napoleon festival, lost her husband Lambert at the railway station and went about Paris bawling for him. Is the story credible?

When we were young boys we were soundly thrashed at home for saying apropos of nothing "Widow who?" which was followed by "Under what bridge?" An annotated catalogue of the street phrases of all nations would be entertaining and educative.—Boston Herald.

The Big Hat in Germany.

A man has inserted the following advertisement in a Halle newspaper: "Required—House in the neighborhood of Halle, size, rent, situation, length of lease no object provided the door is large enough to admit my wife's new hat. When wearing it she cannot get through the door of my present residence and is therefore obliged to stay with a friend."—Berlin Correspondence London Standard.

Joy Killed.

A deaf woman used to tell this story on herself: At a reunion of Confederate veterans where she was officiating as hostess a man was brought up to her and reintroduced as a Mr. Blank, a former resident of her town, and one whom she had not seen for fifty years. He was so little changed by the touch of time and so free from any of the lines that care and anxiety set upon the face that she presently asked, "Mr. Blank, did you ever marry?" She thought she heard him say, "I married forty-five years ago." What he really said was, "My wife died five years ago." Then she, in view of his free, unabashed-of-fate look, said, "You don't look much subdued by the experience.' Since then it has become her habit to hesitate for a significant second after the first syllable whenever she speaks of her dam-aged ears.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

ANOTHER BIG AND IMPORTANT FEATURE

Added to Maryville, Mo., Old Time Street Fair

"The Rooster Said to the Hen, 'We Must Get Better Acquainted.'"

Among the new features, the Street Fair Committee has added to its list this year is a POULTRY DISPLAY. This will be under the management and supervision of E. L. Andrews.

A large tent will be provided and all fowls entered for exhibition will be properly fed and cared for.

No Entry Fee Will Be Charged

The only requirements are that birds must be shown in Exhibition coops of regulation size and conformity. Parties who wish can buy new coops at the tent at wholesale prices or rent them for the week. Pen-coops large enough for five birds rent for the week at 50 cents. Trio-coops for three birds or pairs at 30 cents. If you have your own coops you will be to no expense whatever.

Owing to the early date of the Fair most birds will be under weight. No birds will be weighed, but will be judged by comparison. Chickens will be entered in trios and pens only. Turkeys, Geese and Ducks in pairs only.

No premiums will be offered on single birds.

All entries must be made on Monday, September 16th.

A competent Judge, D.C. Mohler, a member of A. P. A. Ass'n, has been secured to place the ribbons, and a fair and square deal will be our motto. The Committee has set aside a liberal amount of cash for the premiums.

RECORD CATTLE SHIPMENTS

KANSAS CITY MARKET FLOODED WITH LEAN STOCK.

Dry Weather in Oklahoma and Kansas Causes Rush to Sell, and Low Prices.

Kansas City, Sept. 10.—When moisture is lacking in Oklahoma and southwest Kansas the sun and the alkali consume the grass and nothing is left for the cattle. The only thing to do is to get rid of the cattle.

The sequel to such a condition appeared at the Kansas City Stock Yards, when the official count for the day showed over 35,000 cattle yarded including calves.

September 16, 1902, receipts were 29,219 cattle, and this makes a new record.

Most of the cattle came from southwest Kansas and limited areas in other sections of that state and western Oklahoma, where pastures are poor.

The cattle showed the effects of the dry weather. They were lacking in flesh and for the most part had to be sold to country buyers for further grazing and feeding.

While the selling side of the market was under pressure from the heavy receipts the buying side was given the first chance of the season to expand. Prices for stockers and feeders were lowered 25 to 40 cents a hundred pounds and it was the first time this season that the prices of thin cattle were near the bargain counter.

TEAMSTERS FEAR HORSE PLAGUE

Telegraphic Appeal Made to Governor Hadley for Missouri Quarantine Against Disease.

Jefferson City, Sept. 10.—The Teamsters' Association and the veterinary organization of Kansas City have telegraphed Governor Hadley urging him to issue quarantine regulations against horses and mules from infected parts of Kansas and Nebraska into Missouri.

The telegram says that there is great danger of the disease, said to be a form of spinal meningitis, that has lately killed so many horses and mules in Kansas and Nebraska, being introduced into this state unless immediate steps are taken to prevent the shipment from these states.

The case, it is pointed out, has already been discovered at the Kansas stock yards.

The governor has already sent Dr. Frank E. Sheldon, state veteriny surgeon, to Kansas and Nebraska to investigate the disease and ascertain if it is contagious. If Doctor Sheldon says the disease is contagious, the governor says he will issue a proclamation establishing the strictest kind of quarantine regulation at once.

FARMERS OPPOSE OPEN SUNDAYS

Country Delegates to Democratic Convention Preparing to Fight Home Rule Proposition.

Fulton, Mo., Sept. 10.—County delegates to the Democratic state convention at Jefferson City will oppose any home rule program looking to the reopening of saloons Sundays in St. Louis, Kansas City and other large cities, according to statements made by rural leaders the last few days.

It has been noised about that the home rule plank was to bring back old times to the big cities and the oblivion of the blue laws resurrected by Governor Joseph W. Folk. Just what sort of a program has been outlined none of the interior delegates seem to know, but they say they will make a hard fight if things do not shape up according to their ideas. They will not oppose home rule for the big cities if such a plank can be inserted and be in keeping with a tone of good government. Any reactionary movement tending toward the opening of saloons Sundays will be vigorously fought by them, they say.

It's a new experience.

But you must also see the Yellowstone to complete your vacation. And it's easy if you take advantage of the reduced fare rates offered to summer tourists. Your ticket will take you through Colorado, the Regal Rockies and on to Salt Lake City and then swing you northward to the wonderful Yellowstone country. Neither pictures nor words can give you an idea of the beauty of the geysers, mud volcanoes, brilliantly colored rocks, mysterious rivers, thundering waterfalls, precipices, chasms, canons and the million-year old mountains you will see there. Your trip will give you a fresh enthusiasm.

The trip out and back is part of the fun, if you go on one of the Burlington's luxurious limiteds. It does not cost any more to go that way and there isn't any good reason why you shouldn't have the best there is.

I am employed by the Burlington Route to answer all your questions. I'll tell you the cost, the best places to see, send you our handsome folders, and even arrange to reserve a Pullman berth, if desired, if you'll tell me about when you would like to go. DISEASE SPREADING

TRY THE KANSAS REMEDY

Suggestions Offered to Prevent Disease as Well as Treatment for Animals Already Infected.

Several new outbreaks of the horse disease were reported today to The Democrat-Forum by our correspondents in the various parts of the county. It is much worse than at first thought, and the disease seems to be spreading over the county.

The farmers over the county are much excited over the epidemic and are taking prompt action in taking their horses off the pasture. The disease in this county is the same as in Kansas, so the veterinaries say.

In Kansas at the present time the horse disease or something similar to it is spreading among the chickens in that state. Thousands of chickens are reported dying. Few mules have contracted the disease, and it also seems to be affecting few cattle in Kansas.

Dr. J. A. Hendricks, a veterinary of Burlington Junction, reported Wednesday fifteen cases of the disease within a radius of six miles from Burlington Junction. He said at that time that about seven horses had died, and that the remainder would die soon. The disease was first noticed at the Junction by Dr. Hendricks on Tuesday, and he has been very busy to do everything he can to prevent it from spreading. The disease is not in one locality, but seems to be all around the Junction.

There was also reported to this paper cases of many horses taking sick within the last day or so, but as yet were still alive.

Dr. G. H. Leach, deputy state veterinary, reported at noon today that he knew of no new cases of the disease.

Dr. Samuel Morgan of Skidmore reported a case of a horse being sick, but he said he thought it was due to eating rotten corn. He said the horse would die. The horse was the property of Theo. Peters of near Skidmore.

Dr. Morgan also told this paper that he had a horse in the livery stable at Skidmore that had displayed peculiar symptoms, but he was under the impression that it was the disease that is in Kansas. He said he knew of no other cases in the community.

How to Treat the Plague.

The horse plague recommendations of the Kansas veterinarians follow:

That all horses and mules be taken off pasture until freezing weather.

Feed these animals on green corn fodder, cane or kaffir, bran, oil meal, or, in fact any food that has a laxative action. Feed cautiously hay cut from lower or overflowed land, or land receiving drainage from pasture.

See that the horses have a pure, wholesome water supply, free from surface drainage, and that they are excluded from all still, stagnant or surface water.

Empty, clean and thoroughly disinfect all water troughs and tanks by scrubbing out with a solution of four ounces of carbolic acid in a gallon of water once a week.

Give the animal at from twelve to twenty-four hour periods and administer on an empty stomach, one quart of raw linseed oil, to which has been added two ounces of turpentine. Repeat this in twelve to twenty-four hours. Great care should be taken in administering the oil for fear of strangulation. Drench slowly. In case the animal strangles, lower the head. A quart and a half of melted lard may be substituted for the oil. This course of treatment should be repeated in from six to eight days. Never give any drench through the nostrils. Instead of the oil, a capsule composed of aloin, five drams; calomel, one dram; ginger, one dram, and beachwood creosote, twenty drops, may be given and repeated in one week.

Allow the animals free access to the following mixture: Powdered iron sulphate, one pound; powdered copper sulphate, one-half pound; powdered glauber salts, six pounds; common salt, twelve pounds. Mix the ingredients thoroughly.

Some horses will die after being fed on dry feed, but horse owners should not become discouraged, but should continue to keep them off pasture and provide proper feed and water as directed. Veterinarians were agreed that there were no curative measures worth consideration. It had been their experience that most of the infected horses died.

The veterinarians offered the following suggestions as possible helps to infected animals:

Keep the animal in a shady place. Place on top of the head cold packs, either ice or water. Do not drench affected animals, as the throat may be paralyzed and they cannot swallow. Drenching will, therefore, result in lung fever.

NEED DINNER BUCKET BRIGADE.

George B. Irving Says Maryville Can Have 10,000 Population if Citizens Work for It.

The talk made by George B. Irving of Chicago at the Elks' club Tuesday evening to a large crowd of citizens was well received. Mr. Irving's subject was the conservation of community life and he said that what Maryville needed more than anything else was a dinner-pail brigade. He spoke of many things that would help the city, a few being for the Commercial club to have an industrial fund with which to secure factories, to promote the building and construction of good roads, and to have a good social center life.

He told his audience of what other towns were doing and that in all of these places what they had accomplished was through a strong organized commercial club. He said Maryville could be made a town of 10,000 and that all it would take would be work on the part of all of the citizens.

"The commercial club has made many a town and the citizens of Maryville should take part in their club," said the speaker.

Mr. Irving's address was brief and to the point, as the speaker left the city Tuesday evening on the Burlington train.

MRS. W. S MILES DEAD

HOPKINS WOMAN PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY MORNING.

WAS IN BUSINESS THERE

For Many Years She Struggled to Rear Her Family—Second Husband and Seven Children Survive.

Mrs. W. S. Miles died at her home in Hopkins Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Miles had been a great sufferer for the past year, and her trouble being of a cancerous nature, her death was not unexpected. She had been in the novelty and millinery business in Hopkins for a number of years and only lately gave up the work entirely when she sold her business to Miss Frances Lindsay.

In the death of Mrs. Miles Hopkins loses a woman of business ability, kindliness of heart and Christian character. Left as she was with her family of little ones to provide for, she made a noble fight to rear them as best she could, and only those close to her ever realized the struggle this noble mother made.

She united with the Presbyterian church at the age of 12 years, and continued always in the very darkest days to cling to her faith, especially at the last, to her hope for the future.

The funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church by Rev. A. P. Walton, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Taylor of the M. E. church.

The time for the service cannot be arranged until relatives have been heard from. Burial will take place in Hopkins cemetery.

Mrs. Miles' maiden name was Francelia A. Davis. She was born in Randolph, Wis., and moved while yet a child with her parents to Blue Earth, Minn. Here she grew to womanhood and was married to M. D. Jackson of the same place. In 1885 she came with her husband to Hopkins, which has been her home ever since. Mr. Jackson died in 1891, and in 1895 she was again married to William Miles of Hopkins, who, with a family of grown sons and daughters, mourned the loss of a loving wife and mother.

The children are Ellis, J. A. and Theodore Jackson of Hopkins; Prof. Dee Jackson of Big Heart, Okla.; Glen Jackson of Waterloo, Ia.; Miss Frances Miles, who is teaching with her brother at Big Heart, Okla., and an older daughter, Mrs. Pearl Jackson Cook, who is with her husband in the Philippines, Mr. Cook holding a government position there. Mrs. Miles also left a sister, who lives in Chicago.

RUNAWAYS NOT FOUND.

Search for Eloping Couple From Burlington Junction in Des Moines Unavailing.

Miss Nora Harbison, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Harbison of the mineral springs of Burlington Junction, and Herschel Wagner, a son of Wm. Wagner of near that place, eloped about a week ago from the Junction and is said to have gone to Des Moines, Ia., to be married. The following was in the Des Moines Register and Leader of Monday's issue:

Though the police have been searching for a week, and the girl's father has walked up streets day in and day out, no trace of Herschel Wagner, 17 years old, and Nora Harbison, 16 years old, who eloped to Des Moines from Burlington Junction, Mo., has been found.

Under the supervision of J. W. Jenney, chief of police, many of the downtown rooming houses have been searched without success. Several clues of the people have been secured, but all proved false. It is known, however, that they are in the city, and are believed to have been married here.

O. G. Harbison, the father, believes that they came here so that young Wagner could attend school. He does not want to punish the boy so much as he wants to find the girl. "I care nothing for him. I want to find my daughter," he told Chief Jenney. Harbison is determined that his search shall not cease until he has found them, and is said to have made the statement that he will spend $5,000 in his quest if necessary.

PETTY MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

Dry Goods Store Now in the Hands of Fred Kurtz, as Trustee.

An assignment was made a few days ago by F. M. Petty, who is the proprietor of the Petty dry goods store of this city. Fred Kurtz was selected as trustee and will have charge of the store. It will be closed for the next few days and an inventory will be taken of the store. Then it will be disposed of.

F. M. Petty, who is seriously sick at his home in this city, has been unable for the last few months to give as much time to the management of the store as necessary and he took this action himself as he was unable longer to conduct the business.

Mr. Pettty has proven himself an honorable business man in every relation with his fellow business men and it is a matter of deep regret to all who know him that his failing health of the past few years has prevented him meeting and overcoming the reverses that have come upon him. He is a true christian gentleman and it is hoped that he may be able to recover his health, the greatest fortune he could have.

NORMAL OPENING WEDNESDAY.

Indications Point to Large Attendance —Dr. Taylor Returned From State Capital.

Dr. Taylor returned Wednesday morning from Jefferson City where he attended a meeting called by State Superintendent of Schools Evans of the Normal presidents and other school men. The purpose of the meeting was to get the Democratic and Republican party to endorse the mill tax amendment in their platform. Dr. Taylor on Saturday addressed the M. E. Church, South, conference at Shelbina, Mo., on the mill tax amendment and what it meant to this state.

BET ON HORSE RACE

ALBERT S. HANNA VICTIM OF OLD SWINDLING GAME.

LOSS SAID TO BE $7,000

He Won at First and Was Anxious to "Make a Killing"—Small Hopes to Recover Money.

According to dispatches received here today Albert S. Hanna, who lives near Maryville is alleged to have lost $8,000 on a "sure thing" horse race at Omaha. Mr. Hanna gets his mail from the Maryville postoffice on route 3, and is a bachelor about 45 years old. The dispatch from Omaha says:

Albert S. Hanna of Maryville, Mo., a wealthy farmer, today complained to the Omaha police that last week he was defrauded out of $7,000 on a fake pool room deal in a hotel on Capitol avenue, this city. Hanna came to Omaha on business and fell in with a stranger by whom he was let in on a "sure thing" race. The race was supposed to be run in Toronto, and Hanna bet on the telegraphic results. He posted $50 and won. Then he put up $250 and again won.

Intending to make a killing he returned to Maryville, secured $3,500 in cash and a negotiable mortgage for the same sum. He returned to Omaha with this and the grafters, of whom there were four, moved to Excelsior Springs, Mo. Mr. Hanna went with them. All five men then went to Kansas City, and afterward returned to Omaha. At the proper time Hanna put up $7,000 and, according to the telegraph report, his horse failed to win. The confidence men took the cash and mortgage and left the building.

Hanna got to thinking of the matter and appealed to the police. There is small chance of the recovery of Hanna's money.

Captain Maloney of Omaha stated late yesterday that but for a fleeting visit of Hanna to the "rogues' gallery," where he claimed to identify a photograph as that of one of the "mikes," the police department had no official cognizance of the purported swindle. At that time Hanna was in a hurry. He was leaving the city for a day or two. But on his return Maloney will secure complete information upon which to work.

Hanna has filed suit against the alleged "mikers" to recover the amount of Hanna's losses. But so far only $187, on deposit to Lewis' credit in the First National bank, has been discovered. The cash has been attached pending the outcome of the suit. The whereabouts of the other "mikers," Messrs. Casey, Simpson and Gorman are unknown as yet.

The history of the case has developed that Hanna came to Omaha August 28, worth something in excess of $8,000 in cash and property. He was here ten days and when he left possessed less than $800.

Fred Harvey, who is attorney for Mr. Hanna, was not in his office this afternoon, but it is said that the story of the hold-up is true. It is not supposed that Mr. Hanna lost as much as was printed in the dispatches.

TELL OF JOURNEY IN ITALY FROM FLORENCE TO VENICE

The following is a continuation of Miss May Corwin's letter that was published in Tuesday's issue of The Democrat-Forum:

Our journey from Florence to Venice was quite pleasant, as we had a nice new car and such a long one it gave a walk in the side aisle. We spent most of the time shutting the two open windows (in each door on opposite sides) for tunnels, as we passed through more than forty during the first two hours. There was beautiful mountain scenery when we had a chance to see it, and the air outside, when we alighted at stations was great. The last half of the trip was through a very fertile valley. We saw whole herds of the white cattle they use entirely for work here. They even hitch the milk cows to the great carts.

Just outside the railway station we beheld the grand canal of Venice and have not left it for long since. We were put bag and baggage into long black gondolas, with greasy, rather than picturesque, gondoliers, propelling us with his long oar so insecurely fixed in the upright socket. As we entered at 9 o'clock the effect on our imaginations was great, and even now, after four days, the romance of the watery city has worn off in the bright sunlight or these gray rains which have descended during the mornings these last two days, and today's rain promises to hold forth all day long.

We leave Saturday, August 10, for Milan then on to Switzerland. Our party has decided to cut Le Puy, France, and go directly to Paris. Of course, the mountain region may prove so fascinating that all will vote to cut some of Paris and remain.

We went to the beach here on the Isle of Lido. It is one of the finest in Europe and surely peculiar in some ways. The pavilion is very large and extends out over the water. On each side of it are shops of all kinds of pretty things, even music and photos and ostrich plumes and gowns, with lots of lace and jewelry and beautiful glassware. Then a cafe at the end and even roller skating rink.

The beach itself is sandy and the water was warm and lovely out a long distance. I could swim quite a little, I found, so there must be great qualities in the water. The bathing suits are designed like the Spanish, but bright stripes and plaids in pink and red are the popular colors. They add an air of festivity at least. On each side of the beach a row boat containing a couple of dark skinned seamen was anchored and they kept a close eye out for any case of drowning.

We had a nice gondola ride out to another island and saw them make the famous glass of Murano or Venecian ware. The factory is quite small and display room large and very interesting. One family holds the secret of the coloring and do the work. The colors are wonderful. A set of plain glasses have rainbows in them and the odd mosaic vases are dreams.

The glass beads here are wonderful. They are made into purses, bands, belts and strings of all kinds and are all kinds from the smallest to big Indian looking things. Whole shops sell nothing but the bead work, just as others do the laces.

We went to a lace factory where the girls make it on pillows, all by needle and fine thread, even the mesh.

Venice is best at night. There is a fine band concert on St. Mark's square every evening, and out on the grand canal near us here are boats decorated with Jap lanterns, filled with musicians who sing and play (one has a piano and another an organ and the others orchestras) classic and popular songs, and they have good voices. The gondolas are lined up in a bobbing black mass all round [illegible] man with a hat climbs over and collects a penny from each. It is simply great. MAY CORWIN.

STEERS SOLD AT $9.10.

Nodaway County Feeder Disposes of Four Loads of Fairly Good Beeves.

One of the largest individual consignments of cattle received at the St. Joseph market Tuesday was a four car shipment of beeves, fed and shipped by J. B. Nunnelly of Maryville, a prominent farmer and one of the largest live stock shippers in Nodaway county. The shipment embraced eighty steers, averaging 1,313 pounds, that sold at $9.10, a price that was entirely satisfactory to Mr. Nunnelly. For a good many years Mr. Nunnelly has been one of the leading live stock shippers of Nodaway county and has always been a consistent patron of this market.—St. Joseph Live Stock Journal.

Obituary.

Lydia J. Berier, nee Herbert, who died at her home in Denver, Col., on Thursday, August 29, 1912, was born in September 30, 1844, on a farm near Valparaiso, Ind. When an infant her father died. In 1858 her mother married John M. Churchill. They moved to Oregon, Mo., and in 1868 moved to Whig Valley, near Graham, Mo.

In 1861 the family came to Maryville, where the subject of this sketch remained until seven years ago, when she and her husband, W. W. Herbert, went to Denver, Col., to make their home with their son, William Herbert. Mrs. Herbert was married to her husband in 1870. He conducted a photograph gallery in Maryville for many years. Two sons were born to them, William J. and Edward, the latter dying when 6 weeks old.

Those who are left to mourn her death are her invalid husband, their son, Will J. Herbert, a half-sister, Mrs. Mathias Lahr of Maryville, and two half-brothers, Hiram G. Churchill of Enid, Okla., and John N. Churchill of Sheridan, Wyo.

Mrs. Herbert united with the First M. E. church of Maryville in 1868 and lived true to her profession. The funeral services were held at the home, 2429 Glenarm place, Denver. Miss Clara Sawyer, formerly of St. Joseph, a well known singer in Denver, sang several numbers. Among the beautiful floral offerings was a piece made of china asters that covered the top of the casket, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Whitley, formerly of Nodaway county.

Mrs. Herbert had been in poor health for a long time, and her death was not unexpected.

Mrs. C. N. Stormer of Rushville, Mo., accompanied her sons, C. N., Jr., and Romulus Stormer, to Maryville Tuesday, when they registered as State Normal students, went to Bolckow Wednesday morning to visit Mrs. Emmett Messick before returning home.

A HAPPY, LAUGHING CHILD IN FEW HOURS

If Cross, Irritable, Feverish, Tongue Coated and Sick, Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs."

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish, mother! Examine the tongue; if coated, it means the little one's stomach is disordered, liver inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectually, besides they dearly love its delightful fig taste.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without griping or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Was a Beautiful Garden Party.

If the formal opening of the Twentieth Century club may be taken as a criterion of social events of the club for the coming year, the members and their friends may prepare for social and intellectual feasts. The garden party at "Cherrycroft," the home of Mrs. J. F. Montgomery, on Tuesday afternoon, was one of the nicest social times the club has had, and certainly was beautiful to look upon. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Ruth Montgomery, who will leave in a few days for her second year at Northwestern university. There was a good attendance of the members, and they were received by the officers of the club, Miss Jessie Parcher, Mrs. M. J. Honnold, Mrs. M. G. Tate, Miss Alma Nash, Mrs. S. R. Beech, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode. Lavender punch was served from a table that was beautifully decorated with china asters in the club colors of lavender and white, by Miss Laura Barmann, Miss Esther Shoemaker and Miss Elise Jackson. The club was called to order by the president, Miss Jessie Parcher, and some business matters of last year were closed up. Talks were made by the chairmen of the various departments, Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend for the music department; Mrs. George P. Bellows for the arts and crafts department; Mrs. Anderson Craig for the Shakespearean department, and Mrs. George Colbert for the Tourists. This was followed by the presentation of the year books containing the programs for the coming year's study for all departments. Miss May Orear, Miss Alma Nash and Mrs. D. J. Thomas distributed the books in baskets decorated with lavender and white asters and tulle. A one-course luncheon in the club colors followed and was served from ten small tables. Mrs. Jonn Bellows of Chicago was an out-of-town guest.

Foolish Sayings Unaccountably Endowed With a Most Remarkable Vitality.

Or was "Who Kissed Henrietta?" only one of many queer street cries that are spoken and heard for a season? Who first shouted: "Ah there!" expectant of the answer: "Say there!"? In London the foolish cry: "How's your poor feet?" was long in fashion. It was first heard, they say, about 1862. When Henry Irving revived "The Dead Heart," in 1890, some one wrote: "When the play was brought out originally, where one of the characters says: 'My heart is dead, dead, dead!' a voice from the gallery nearly broke up the drama with: 'How are your poor feet?' The phrase lived." Now "The Dead Heart" was first produced at the Adelphi, London, in 1859, so the phrase must have been heard before 1862 if this story be true. Precision in such cases is suspicious. When a man tells you he will repay a light loan next Wednesday in front of the Park Street church at 11:30 a. m.—"I may be a few minutes late"—you know full well that you will see his face no more. Others say: "How's your poor feet?" dates from the exhibition of 1851.

Or take the Parisian cry: "Ohe Lambert! As-tu vu Lambert?" The wise men will tell you that on August 15, 1864, a woman from the country, arriving for the Napoleon festival, lost her husband Lambert at the railway station and went about Paris bawling for him. Is the story credible?

When we were young boys we were soundly thrashed at home for saying apropos of nothing "Widow who?" which was followed by "Under what bridge?" An annotated catalogue of the street phrases of all nations would be entertaining and educative.—Boston Herald.

The Big Hat in Germany.

A man has inserted the following advertisement in a Halle newspaper: "Required—House in the neighborhood of Halle, size, rent, situation, length of lease no object provided the door is large enough to admit my wife's new hat. When wearing it she cannot get through the door of my present residence and is therefore obliged to stay with a friend."—Berlin Correspondence London Standard.

Joy I 41.

A deaf woman used to tell this story on herself: At a reunion of Confederate veterans where she was officiating as hostess a man was brought up to her and reintroduced as a Mr. Blank, a former resident of her town, and one whom she had not seen for fifty years. He was so little changed by the touch of time and so free from any of the lines that care and anxiety set upon the face that she presently asked, "Mr. Blank, did you ever marry?" She thought she heard him say, "I married forty-five years ago." What he really said was, "My wife died five years ago." Then she, in view of his free, unabashed-of-fate look, said, "You don't look much subdued by the experience.' Since then it has become her habit to hesitate for a significant second after the first syllable whenever she speaks of her dam-aged ears.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

No Entry Fee Will Be Charged

The only requirements are that birds must be shown in Exhibition coops of regulation size and conformity. Parties who wish can buy new coops at the tent at wholesale prices or rent them for the week. Pen-coops large enough for five birds rent for the week at 50 cents. Trio-coops for three birds or pairs at 30 cents. If you have your own coops you will be to no expense whatever.

Owing to the early date of the Fair most birds will be under weight. No birds will be weighed, but will be judged by comparison. Chickens will be entered in trios and pens only. Turkeys, Geese and Ducks in pairs only.

No premiums will be offered on single birds.

All entries must be made on Monday, September 16th.

A competent Judge, D.C. Mohler, a member of A. P. A. Ass'n, has been secured to place the ribbons, and a fair and square deal will be our motto. The Committee has set aside a liberal amount of cash for the premiums.

RECORD CATTLE SHIPMENTS

KANSAS CITY MARKET FLOODED WITH LEAN STOCK.

Dry Weather in Oklahoma and Kansas Causes Rush to Sell, and Low Prices.

Kansas City, Sept. 10.—When moisture is lacking in Oklahoma and southwest Kansas the sun and the alkali consume the grass and nothing is left for the cattle. The only thing to do is to get rid of the cattle.

The sequel to such a condition appeared at the Kansas City Stock Yards, when the official count for the day showed over 35,000 cattle yarded including calves.

September 16, 1902, receipts were 29,219 cattle, and this makes a new record.

Most of the cattle came from southwest Kansas and limited areas in other sections of that state and western Oklahoma, where pastures are poor.

The cattle showed the effects of the dry weather. They were lacking in flesh and for the most part had to be sold to country buyers for further grazing and feeding.

While the selling side of the market was under pressure from the heavy receipts the buying side was given the first chance of the season to expand. Prices for stockers and feeders were lowered 25 to 40 cents a hundred pounds and it was the first time this season that the prices of thin cattle were near the bargain counter.

TEAMSTERS FEAR HORSE PLAGUE

Telegraphic Appeal Made to Governor Hadley for Missouri Quarantine Against Disease.

Jefferson City, Sept. 10.—The Teamsters' Association and the veterinary organization of Kansas City have telegraphed Governor Hadley urging him to issue quarantine regulations against horses and mules from infected parts of Kansas and Nebraska into Missouri.

The telegram says that there is great danger of the disease, said to be a form of spinal meningitis, that has lately killed so many horses and mules in Kansas and Nebraska, being introduced into this state unless immediate steps are taken to prevent the shipment from these states.

The case, it is pointed out, has already been discovered at the Kansas stock yards.

The governor has already sent Dr. Frank E. Sheldon, state veteriny surgeon, to Kansas and Nebraska to investigate the disease and ascertain if it is contagious. If Doctor Sheldon says the disease is contagious, the governor says he will issue a proclamation establishing the strictest kind of quarantine regulation at once.

FARMERS OPPOSE OPEN SUNDAYS

Country Delegates to Democratic Convention Preparing to Fight Home Rule Proposition.

Fulton, Mo., Sept. 10.—County delegates to the Democratic state convention at Jefferson City will oppose any home rule program looking to the reopening of saloons Sundays in St. Louis, Kansas City and other large cities, according to statements made by rural leaders the last few days.

It has been noised about that the home rule plank was to bring back old times to the big cities and the oblivion of the blue laws resurrected by Governor Joseph W. Folk. Just what sort of a program has been outlined none of the interior delegates seem to know, but they say they will make a hard fight if things do not shape up according to their ideas. They will not oppose home rule for the big cities if such a plank can be inserted and be in keeping with a tone of good government. Any reactionary movement tending toward the opening of saloons Sundays will be vigorously fought by them, they say.

Cavalry to Leave Wednesday.

Fort Riley, Kan., Sept. 10.—The thirteenth cavalry will leave for El Paso Wednesday instead of Thursday, according to the latest orders received by Col. Charles Hatfield. The work of preparing for the trip is being rushed.

How to See Colorado and the Yellowstone

By all means plan your summer vacation to include Colorado. A week of that glorious air will do you good for a lifetime. And that wonderful sky! Even Italy cannot match it for clear, deep, turquoise beauty. Then the mountains—they tower above you everywhere seeming to raise your spirit with them into the cool and restful cloudland. It's a new experience.

But you must also see the Yellowstone to complete your vacation. And it's easy if you take advantage of the reduced fare rates offered to summer tourists. Your ticket will take you through Colorado, the Regal Rockies and on to Salt Lake City and then swing you northward to the wonderful Yellowstone country. Neither pictures nor words can give you an idea of the beauty of the geysers, mud volcanoes, brilliantly colored rocks, mysterious rivers, thundering waterfalls, precipices, chasms, canons and the million-year old mountains you will see there. Your trip will give you a fresh enthusiasm.

The trip out and back is part of the fun, if you go on one of the Burlington's luxurious limiteds. It does not cost any more to go that way and there isn't any good reason why you shouldn't have the best there is.

I am employed by the Burlington Route to answer all your questions. I'll tell you the cost, the best places to see, send you our handsome folders, and even arrange to reserve a Pullman berth, if desired, if you'll tell me about when you would like to go. When you write me, a postal will do. W. E. Goforth, ticket agent, Burlington Route.

P. S.—The date of the Pike's Peak Region annual "Shan Kive" and Summer Carnival has been set as Aug. 27, 28 and 29. It will be held at Colorado Springs—Manitou, and will be larger and grander than ever. You ought to arrange to be there at that time, if possible.
